ANTI-FRAUD & CORRUPTION POLICY

This document defines the expected conduct of all staff engaged within Hamwic Education Trust and its academies (the Trust), whether in paid or voluntary employment, in relation to deterring and/or detecting fraud & corruption and the acceptance of gifts & hospitality, including lines of reporting.

For the purpose of this document, the definition of staff includes all staff and volunteers working for the Trust as well as staff in academies operating within the Trust.

Introduction:

The Trust is committed to ensuring that it acts with integrity and has high standards of personal conduct. All staff involved with the Trust have a responsibility in respect of preventing and detecting fraud. The Trust also recognises the role of others in alerting them to areas where there is a suspicion of fraud.

Recognising a potential fraud and being able to report it is just as important as the measures to prevent and detect fraud.

It is the duty of all staff to take reasonable steps to limit the possibility of corrupt practices and it is the responsibility of auditors to review the adequacy of the measures taken by the Trust to test compliance and to draw attention to any weaknesses or omissions.

All staff must also ensure that they proactively take action to protect themselves and others from the unwarranted suspicion of fraud.

Any investigation carried out in relation to alleged irregularities is linked to the Trust's Disciplinary Policy.

Definitions:

'Fraud' is a general term covering theft, deliberate misuse/misappropriation of assets or anything that leads to a financial advantage to the perpetrator or others upon whose behalf he or she acts, even if these "others" are in ignorance of the fraud. Fraud is intentional deceit and for this reason it cannot include negligence.

Fraud incorporates theft, larceny, embezzlement, fraudulent conversion, false pretences, forgery, corrupt practices and falsification of accounts.

'Corruption' is defined as the offering, giving, soliciting or acceptance of an inducement/reward which may influence the actions taken by the Trust or its staff.

Categories of Fraud or Corruption:

The following broad categories cover the main areas covered by this document:

- Theft – the dishonest taking of property belonging to another person with the intention of depriving the owner permanently of its possession;
- Fraud – the intentional distortion of financial statements or other records, by persons internal & external to the Trust, which is carried out to conceal the misappropriation of assets or otherwise for gain;
- Bribery & Corruption – involves the offering or the acceptance of a reward, for performing an act, or for failing to act, which leads to gain for the person offering the inducement;

- Failure to observe – involves breaches to schemes of delegation, financial regulations or Trust procedures which in some circumstances can constitute an irregularity, with potentially significant financial consequences.

Examples of what could constitute fraud & corruption are:

- Theft of cash;
- Non-receipt of income;
- Substitution of personal cheques for cash;
- Travelling & subsistence claims for non-existent journeys/events;
- Inflating travel & subsistence claims;
- Manipulation of documents relating to salaries, including overtime claims;
- Payment of invoices for goods received by an individual rather than the Trust
- Failure to observe, or breaches of, regulations and/or other legislation laid down by the Trust;
- Unauthorised borrowing of equipment;
- Breaches of confidentiality regarding information;
- Failure to declare a direct pecuniary (or otherwise conflicting) interest;
- Concealing a generous gift or reward;
- Unfairly influencing the award of a contract;
- Creation of false documents;
- Deception;
- Using positions for personal rewards.

The above list is not exhaustive; fraud & corruption can take many different paths. If in any doubt about whether a matter is irregular or not, clarification must be sought from the Chief Financial Officer.

Reporting a Suspected Fraud:

Please refer to the Trust's Whistleblowing Policy for further guidance.

Response to Allegations:

The Chief Financial Officer will ascertain whether or not the suspicions aroused have substance. They will, if appropriate, conduct a preliminary investigation to gather factual information and reach an initial view as to whether further action is required. The findings, conclusions and any recommendations arising from this preliminary investigation will be reported to the CEO. If the Chief Financial Officer is implicated or suspected of financial irregularities the initial investigation will be carried out by the Deputy CEO (Business).

The CEO is required to notify the Board of Directors of any serious financial irregularities. This action will be taken at the first opportunity following the completion of the initial investigation(s) and will involve keeping the Chair of the Board of Directors fully informed between Board meetings of any developments relating to serious control weaknesses, fraud or major accounting breakdowns.

If evidence of fraud is forthcoming then the Board of Directors will inform the Department of Education/Education & Skills Funding Agency as required by the Trust's Funding Agreement and will consider whether or not to refer the matter to the police.
